

4470

a fanciful pair of american 1970's aluminum antler arm chairs designed by Arthur Court, San Francisco (1928-2015)

1970's

As one person described Arthur Court's San Francisco shop, "it's a world of wonders - elegant and exotic". A new and innovative aluminum casting process led Arthur and Arthur Court Designs into a new era. His unique aluminum furniture and accessories featured cast antler chandeliers, chairs, tables and bookcases. Department stores across the United States brought his aluminum creations to loyal followers and collectors; reupholstered in brown cowhide.

Height: 42"

Seat height:

Width: 30"

Depth: 34"

Diameter:

Drop:

$14,750