

5422

An American 1960s Tri-front Walnut 2-Door Cabinet by John Van Koert for Drexel stamped 1964

the 3-sided top above a paneled conforming body centering double-doors fitted with a solid brass latch; John Van Koert was a prominent New York designer who helped promote the fascination with Danish modern furnishings in the 1950's. In 1954, he was exhibition director of "Design in Scandinavia," at the Brooklyn Museum of Art, introducing modern Scandinavian design to Americans. Mr. Van Koert's furniture designs for Drexel, were represented by prominent department stores such as Macy's and Bloomingdale's; good vintage condition with minor wear and patina; patina to brass Height: 29"

Seat height:

Width: 42"

Depth: 11"

Diameter:

Drop: