An Early Heywood Wakefield Wicker and Wood Drinks/Bar Cart, circa 1910

circa 1910

the two-wheeled drinks trolley with turned handle joining a rectangular top within an openwork gallery all raised on wicker-wrapped supports joining a lower shelf; The Heywood Furniture Co. began in 1826 making wicker and rattan furniture. In 1897, the company merged with a competitor, Wakefield Rattan Co., to form the Heywood-Wakefield Co. Heywood-Wakefield's iconic Streamline Modern furniture line was introduced at the 1933 Century of Progress International Exposition in Chicago. The soft-curved, light-colored look ushered in an age of furniture called midcentury modern. This popular style is still in demand today; good original antique condition; professionally refinished and frame strengthened; some oxidation to iron wheels and fittings
